

REMARKS

This application is amended to match the claimed subject matter with the inventorship as stated in the Declaration for Patent Application as actually executed. The specification of this nonprovisional application is a combination of three related provisional applications. The three provisional applications had varying combinations of coinventors, which combinations were redetermined on the filing of this and a related nonprovisional application. Since those filings, but before the filing of an executed oath or declaration for this application, another change has occurred such that only one of the originally filed claims will be pursued in this application, thus requiring a new determination of inventorship. The declaration to be filed with this application includes only the actual coinventors for the single claim remaining after this preliminary amendment. The statements made by them in the declaration are true for both the application as originally filed and as amended by this preliminary amendment.

Continuation applications may be filed in the future which include the claims cancelled by this preliminary amendment.

Applicants respectfully request examination on the merits of this application and early allowance of claim 3.

Respectfully submitted,
